

Invitation to authors

The Editorial Board of BIOLOGICAL RESEARCH invites contributions from researchers of all disciplines of the biological sciences. Such contributions may be submitted either in the form of full-length papers or short communications. The journal will also publish reviews by invitation, but prospective authors may contact the Chief Editor on this respect.

For full-length papers and reviews, there are no limits in the numbers of pages, illustrations and references, if they are required for the adequate report of the subject of the manuscript.

Manuscripts will receive immediate attention upon arrival. They will be fully revised by two independent referees, either members of the Editorial Board or ad hoc referees, committed to processing manuscripts as quickly as possible and to the highest standards. To accelerate procedures involved in revision of manuscripts, referees' comments and revised versions, as well as notifications of receipt, acceptance and rejection of papers, will be processed by FAX. Authors are requested to provide their FAX numbers with the submission of their manuscripts, and to use FAX or fast mail services whenever possible.

The aim of BIOLOGICAL RESEARCH is to accept or reject short communications within 6 weeks and to publish them in the next issue of the journal (3 months intervals). Full-length papers will be refereed within 8 weeks of their submission and they will be published within 3 months of the approval of their last versions.
